Mrs. Johnson of Diaz, Mexico, Ridicules Scare Stories of Jingo Press.

"CHINKS" WORK U. S.

After Saving Snug Sum They Let United States Pay Cost of Trip Home.

An interesting communication is the one at hand; a letter from Mrs. V. B. Johnson in Diaz, Mexico. Mrs. Johnson says none of the colonists in that part of Mexico have had a glimpse of the thousands of Japs reported flocking into the country by the "jingo" press. She encloses a clipping from one of the Mexican town papers which reprints and comments upon a story published in the New York World regarding the rumored preparations of Japan for war with the United States. "There are no Japanese in this part of the country; at least that any of the col-onists have seen," Mrs. Johnson writes, THE WILY CHINK

"The Chinese have a very clever way orking" Uncle Sam. Great num of working Unice Sam. Great numbers of them come into Mexico from China as there is no expulsion law. They get positions as cooks, waiters and servants about railroad restaurants and with private families. When they have saved a small fortune and are designs of returning to China they are sirous of returning to China they arrange to do so at Uncle's Sam's expense in this clever manner. HOW THEY DO IT.

"A number club together and hiring a teamster drive to some small town on the frontier between Mexico and the states. Before arriving at the line someone informs the guards what is about to happen (the person doing the informing gets $25 per head for every would-be-immigrant he spots). With a great show the Chinese are caught as they pretend to he sneaking through and then they are taken to California and carried clear back to China by Uncle Sam without a penny's cost to themselves. This sly practise is growing and many make the trip across the water several times at Uncle Sam's expense."

This story is interesting in the ex-This story is interesting in the ex-treme and lays a new problem open for consideration. Uncle Sam isn't a fellow who cares to be an "easy mark" but the slant-eved Chinese seems to have held the upper hand in this little game so far. As the willy son of the yellow sun sits upon the deck on his way back to China he probably recites to himself. "no pushee; no pullee but me gette back home allright."

The clipping from the New York World mentioned by Mrs. Johnson in her denial of the presence of the Japs,

HAS EDITOR ARRESTED.

New York, Aug. 8.—Senor R. Bengoechea, Guatemalan consul-general in this city, charging that President Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala has been grossly libeled and misrepresented, has had Caesar Zameta, editor of the Spanish weekly La Semana arrested and held in ball for trial in special sessions. The case is perhaps the first where a consul-general has brought criminal libel proceedings for attacks on his president.

Members of the Spanish American colony in this city have watched the controversy between Senor Bengoechea, who vigorously defended President Cabrera, and Senor Zameta, who published things the consul-general believed called for this defense. The editor of the paper says La Semana is only a review of the week's events published in American newspapers.

The largest diamond in the world was found in the Premier mine about two years ago.

Hilgard Says is Old and Exploded.

Berkeley, Cal., Aug 8.—The declaration of Prof. Milton Whitney, chief of the bureal of soils of the United States department of agriculture, to the effect that he has discovered a new theory of soil fertilization which may necessitate a complete revision of the science of chemistry of soils, has stirred up a pretty row between experts on the subject of soils all over the country. Prof. Whitney claims the growth of plants does not exhaust the soil. This according to orthodax scientists of Dr. Hilgard's school, is heresy. Dr. Hilgard, former dean and chief of the U. S. agricultural department station at Berkeley, said today:

"This theory, which Prof. Whitney seems to think is new, was advanced, discussed and exploded a hundred years ago."

AMELIA RIVES' HUSBAND BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

New York, Aug. 7.—If John Armstrong Chanier, the wealthy New Yorker, who escaped from an insane asylum in this state several years ago and fled to Virginia, where the courts declared him sane, comes back to New York to prosecute a sult he has instituted to get control of his property, he will do so at the risk of being reincareerated as a lunatic, according to a decision by Judge Hough in the United States circuit court today.

Chanler, who is the divorced husband of Amelia Rives, the authoress, was adjudged insane by the supreme court in this city and committed to an asylum. Thomas T. Sherman was appointed as a committee to take charge of Chanier and his estate. Later Chanler escaped to Virginia. He invoked the aid of the courts, which declared him sane and competent to have control of his property. The latter, however, being still in possession of the supreme court's committee of this state. Mr. Chanier brought suit in the federal court of this district to force Mr. Sherman to restore it to him. Fearing that if he returned to prosecute his action he would be seized and again remanded to the insane asylum. Mr. Charter, through counsel, last week petitioned Judge Hough to grant an order restraining the supreme court and its officers from interfering with him should he appear in New York. This Judge Hough declined to do in his decision handed down today.

Cancer Removed Without Knife.

Cancer Removed Without Knife.

A case of extraordinary note was one which turned up yesterday. E. R. Williams of Layton, Davis County, Utah, called at the office of the Boy Phenomenal, two days after having taken a treatment for a cancer on the lip. He was rejoicing over the fact that the big threatening sore was entirely gone, and he was feeling like himself for the first time in months. Speaking of the matter, he said: "I read of the wonderful healing done by the Boy Phenomenal, and concluded to give him a trial. About a week ago I took a trip down to Salt Lake intending to stay several days. I happened along Second South and Second West streets one night and joined a big crowd in front of the Boy Phenomenal's show. I was impressed with the great speech by Fer-Don, and decided to visit him at his office the next day and let the Boy Phenomenal look at my cancer. Next day I was there when the office opened at 2 o'clock, and was the first to be treated. My jaw ached with the cancer, and my lip was swelled up to three times its normal size. I had my head tied up in bandages, and was suffering greatly with cutting pain down the side of my face and about my chin. My lip was practically dead from pain. It was subjected to the bloodless operation of the Boy Phenomenal, and now, as you see, I am well and in perfect health."

That is but one case out of dozens which are treated each day, and which K9292929292929292929292689268 That is but one case out of dozens which are treated each day, and which are being talked of all over the state.

The big free show near Second South and Second West streets still draws the thousands. Long before the nightly performance begins the people are gathered about the stage, and never one leaves until the last of the performance. The Diamond Cluster Band and the minstrels cause great laughter in their acts, and the inspiring speech of Fer-Don each night is listened to with great interest. The big attraction each night is, however, the bloodless operations by the Boy Phenomenal He performs before the great crowds, and holds all dumbfounded during the whole proceeding. The show would beyond a doubt be exceptionally well attend if a big admission was charged. It is held each night, and Fer-Don extends a welcome to everybody.
